Letting Sports Take Root - LOHAS for All (Message from the Director-General)

In 2019, Taiwan became a so-called "aging society" with the population of citizens above the age of 65 years old exceeding 14%. Facing the rapid aging population, the Sports Administration (referred to as the "Administration") continues to promote the exercise habit of all citizens nationwide. According to the survey result of the current state of exercise in 2019, the senior sports population is far higher than the overall average of the total population; the percentage of citizens above the age of 65 years old with regular exercise habit is 82.5%, an increase of 0.3% from the previous year. In addition, the percentage overall of citizens who regularly exercise also reaches 33.6%, indicating an increase of more than 20,000 people in one year. Through the project of "iSports Taiwan", we encourage citizens to maintain a regular exercise habit to improve physical and mental health. In addition, with the humanistic spirit, we actively encourage disabled people to participate in sports, create an excellent sports environment of "Love Sports - Move without Obstacles" and invite domestic disabled sports athletes to promote participation in sports by disabled people, thereby encouraging physically disabled people to be bold enough to overcome natural disabilities to enjoy equal rights in sports.

To enhance the exercise habit of young adults, the Administration implements the "My Workplace, My Field, Corporate iSports" project, providing subsidies to enterprises for promoting employee exercise, hiring sports professionals to act as exercise instructors, thereby creating a lively and friendly workplace. This project aims to care for the physical and mental health of employees and to construct a new corporate culture with sports while providing employment opportunities to sports professionals in order to achieve a win-win situation and to root the concept of sports in various corporate organizations, agencies and groups in society. Consequently, office workers that tend to lack the exercise habit in their daily lives can have opportunities to perform exercise and sports through diverse channels, thereby enjoying a routine exercise and LOHAS living.

Regarding competitive sports, with the commitment to continuous challenge of limitations, athletes have achieved outstanding results in various international sports competitions and have received medals in numerous competitive international sports competitions such as tennis, badminton, baseball, gymnastics, track and field and weightlifting etc. The Administration continues to expand and seek budgets to enhance the national training center facilities under the existing system, strategy and management in order to optimize the care and training environment for national athletes and to improve the space of each arena and stadium in staged plans. In addition to the enhancement of facilities, we also promote the "Bo-Le Project" and "Tide Plan" for the training of athletes and coaches, and provide diverse channels for higher education, subsidies and tuition fee reduction for students with outstanding grades in sports. Furthermore, a sports protection project plan is also implemented for school physical education in order to allow young athletes to receive complete guidance to cultivate future sports stars in Taiwan. In terms of competitive sports, subsidies are provided to athletes attending international sports events and incentives are provided to encourage sports organizations to organize international sports events, thereby cultivating various national sports teams with the aim of allowing the world to get to know Taiwan through sports and achieve comprehensive preparation for the upcoming Tokyo 2020 Olympics Games.

In 2013, the Administration launched the "Sports and Physical Education Policy White Paper". In 2019, we entered the medium-term project and continue to link resources of various sectors through the three aspects of the "Sports for All Citizens", "Competitive Sports" and "Sports Industry" in order to establish a friendly and high quality sports environment for all citizens nationwide. In 2020, the budget of the Administration will be increased to NT$ 13.291 billion to continuously improve the domestic sports environment. Through realization of the sports vision and goal of "Healthy Citizens, Outstanding Competitiveness, Lively Taiwan", we look forward to making sports part of the daily lives of our citizens and allowing all citizens in Taiwan to enjoy LOHAS and healthy living.
